Of Henderson's 215 new registrants, 156 were put in class one.

A Negro boy named John Henry Henderson, aged 16, was killed by a train at Morton's Gap.

Hun prisoners taken admit their commanders are whipped and they were eminently corged.

Wm. L. Edison, Thomas A. Edison's son, has enlisted in the tank service.

Wm. Moore and Vivian Mimms were both in the colored call yesterday. When their names were called one was in his coffin and the other in jail.

BRAKES APPLIED TO DRIVE

THE GERMANS ARE RISKING THEIR ALL ON THIS DRIVE BIGGEST LIST OF ALL CHOSEN

(By Associated Press.)

Paris, July 16.—German offensive has taken on a great scale equal to that launched March 21st, says a dispatch filed from the Marne front today at noon by the correspondent of the Temps. Fighting continued this morning in a violent storm of thunder and lightning, the weather clearing at noon. An impression of confidence throughout the Allied Armies is indicated by the latest dispatches from various parts of the front.

With the French Army in France, July 16.—Marquise-Les-Port on the Marne was the scene this morning of terrific fighting in which the French and American troops resisted most valiantly against heavy odds.

The board spent several hours selecting the other 47, most of them farmers and many of them married. Every effort was made to avoid working hardships.

The list as finally made up is as follows:

Long range guns began bombarding Paris again Monday, with the opening of the big battle.

The American force under Gen. Hunter Liggett, taking part in the battle of the Marne, numbers 220,000 men. They bore the brunt of the first attack.

Germany has 60 weather experts at the front, who predicted that the rainy weather would not last long and that good field operations could be counted on. They didn't figure on a hail of bullets.

The Germans apparently deliberately attempted to shell several of the American hospitals near the Marne front. A number of shells fell intermittently a short distance from them. They did no damage, beyond disturbing the patients.

Russia now has "Red Guards" in Ukraine, "White Guards" in Finland and "Black Guards" in Siberia. In spite of the unsavory name, the "Black Guards" are the real patriots of Russia whose business is to put the Bolsheviks "Yellow Guards" out of business.

The correspondent talked with some American soldiers now in hospitals who were in the thick of the fighting Monday morning. They were in complete agreement that the German infantry was no match for the Americans. This is evidenced by the reports from all the American hospitals, there being only a few cases of wounds from rifle and machine gun fire while most of the men are suffering from shrapnel wounds. Some of these cases are serious.

Paris, July 15.—Lieut. W. Vernon Booth, Jr., of the American flying corps, has died at a Scottish hospital near the front from injuries received in a bomb explosion when he was forced to land after an aerial combat over the German lines. This injury necessitated the amputation of a leg. He was buried with full military honors.

Lieut. Booth was born in Chicago in 1889, the son of W. Vernon Booth and Helen L. Booth who is a sister of Mrs. Philip D. Armour.

Last April Lieut. Booth was married in Paris to Miss Ethel Forgan, daughter of David R. Forgan, Chicago financier. Previously he had brought down a German airplane and as a reward a ten day's leave of absence was granted him that he might be married.

THE GAME OF "KAMERAD"

An article written for the official publication of the United States marines now winning glory in France, says:

"There are some things about the boche mode of warfare which the marines haven't as yet learned and probably never will. On more than one occasion the 'squareheads' as the Germans are affectionately called have attempted to teach and to play what is popularly known as the game of 'Kamerad,' but with poor success somehow the marines don't take it as they should. For the benefit of the uninitiated it might be explained that the game originated with the boche It was the 'made in Germany' mark stamped all over it. It can be played by any number of persons and consists in say eight or ten boche coming across No Man's Land on a run with hands upraised and shouting 'Kamerad.' That's where this form of amusement derives its name."

"When they shout 'Kamerad' it means that they are playing the game and you mustn't shoot at them, but allow them to come quite close. If you shoot at them it spoils the whole game, and besides it's strictly against the rules, boche rules, of course. Anyway, you're not to do any shooting. They will then come up and each boche picks out the marine that he likes the best. To show that you're his Kamerad and that he means it he places his arms about your neck, almost as if he were going to kiss you. At the same time he draws a knife, of the long trench variety, and stabs you in the back. Then the first part of the game is over. Sometimes they don't come so close, and instead of using the knife they use a grenade, with practically the same results. This process can be repeated until either one side or the other tires of playing. It's a game of black treachery which betrays the Germans' evil ingenuity."

"The boche picked out a particularly dark night to play this game with some marines who were doing patrol duty, but for some reason or other the latter didn't feel like playing, hadn't thoroughly learned the rules of the game, or else from what they had heard just simply didn't like the game or the way it was played. Anyway when four boche began running across No Man's Land the other night, and shouted 'Kamerad,' one of the marine yelled, 'Sure, I'm the guy,' and let go. It was dark, and he couldn't quite see whether he'd made a good hit. There was a few other shouts of 'Kamerad' and he fired some more. Next morning they found two boche just beyond the wire and also some equipment evidently belonging to the ones that had managed to get back into their lines and had discarded haversacks, gas masks and belts, and lost their caps in their hurry. The blood-stained belt and a gas mask with a hole in it testified that the marine had made a hit."

THROAT CUT DEATH ENSUES

VIVIAN MIMMS KILLED WILLIAM MOORE IN FIGHT OVER A WOMAN YESTERDAY.

William Moore was killed by Vivian Mimms yesterday morning shortly before one o'clock at the home of Mr. E. S. Melton on South Main street. They were both negroes and fought over Mary Lou Hern, a colored woman employed in Mr. Melton's family.

Moore had been with the woman at Friendship Hall Monday night and went with her home on the Melton premises. Shortly afterwards Mimms appeared on the scene and the tragedy occurred.

The details are meagre as to the actual facts.

Moore came running across yards from Mr. Milton's back yard, and while continuing his flight down the street to a point in front of the residence of Mr. T. C. Underwood fell upon the sidewalk and expired. He had bled to death from a wound in his throat that severed the jugular vein.

Mimms also fled from the scene in an opposite direction and yesterday about noon was found at his home by Lieut. Hawkins and other officers and put under arrest.

In his trunk was found a large pocket knife with a hooked blade and there was blood on the blade. Mimms admitted that he killed Moore, but said Moore threatened to shoot him and then attacked him with a knife and that he took the knife away from him and cut him with his own knife.

The blood on his knife found in the trunk he said came from his own finger that he had cut.

In addition to the cut in Moore's throat, which extended from the left collar bone around to his windpipe, the victim had a deep cut on his left leg above the knee.

The woman made a statement yesterday in which she said Mimms was lurking in the garden when Moore returned with her and that when he attacked Moore she ran away. Resident hastily summoned Dr. J. E. Stone and Mayor Frank Bassett when Moore was found, but he was in a dying condition.

Mimms is hotel waiter at Hotel Latham. Moore was a barber in a colored shop.

bodies and work is to be discontinued.

Searching Party on Board.

Coroner Clary and Sheriff Wilson of Tazewell county, together with fifteen or more workers, were aboard the Columbia when it suddenly popped to the surface. A number of small launches were moored about the sides of the submerged steamer. These were lifted out of the water and carried down stream.

There was a hasty scramble to quit the vessel and all reached small boats in safety.

An examination of the steamer is to be made at once to determine the cause of the sudden rising. There is suggestion that the snag which caused the wreck clung fast to the bottom until released by the action of the current, permitting the steamer to rise.
